

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,
dear friends of the Dubnow Institute, the DFG-funded International Research Training Group (IRTG) “Belongings: Jewish Material Culture in Twentieth-Century Europe and Beyond,” a unique cooperation between Leipzig University (LU), the Leibniz Institute for Jewish History and Culture – Simon Dubnow (DI), and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem (HUJI), will commence its work in Leipzig from September 2024. The interdisciplinary program brings together expertise in modern European and Jewish history, German and Slavic literary studies, philosophy, cultural studies, folklore and performance studies, and art history. Researchers of all nationalities are welcome to apply for Doctoral and Postdoctoral Researcher positions in Leipzig and Jerusalem.

We would also like to draw your attention to some news from the Institute and an English article on our blog »Mimeo«.

The Determining Gaze. Images of Jewish Life in Postwar Poland

Exhibition at the Dubnow Institute
Leipzig, Germany

More

The exhibition at the Leibniz Institute for Jewish History and Culture – Simon Dubnow showcases photographs of Jewish life in Poland immediately after the Holocaust. It emerged in cooperation with the Emanuel Ringelblum Jewish Historical Institute in Warsaw, which holds one of the most important collections on Polish Jewish history. A unique photographic collection consisting especially of photo albums offers insights into the ambivalence of the first postwar years.

Honorary Professorship for Jan Gerber

Jan Gerber, Head of the Research Unit »Politics« at the Dubnow Institute, has been appointed Honorary Professor of Modern and Contemporary History with a focus on Modern Jewish History at the Leipzig University.
